

KILL RUSSIANS IN NEXT RIOT POLICE TO FIRE BULLETS INSTEAD OF PLAYING HOSE

FILIPINO TRIBAL RIOT IN KOHALA

ON TOP OF A STRIKE DEFERRED OUT OF COURTESY TO THE ABSENT MANAGER, THE FILIPINOS ON HAWI PLANTATION DIVIDE ACCORDING TO THEIR RESPECTIVE NATIVE ISLANDS—ONE BAND ROUTS THE OTHER.

The following story is from the Kohala Midget of Wednesday:

There are two groups of Filipino laborers on Hawi plantation which was the occasion of an exciting miniature race war, last week.

The first Filipinos came from the island of Cebu, and proved themselves capital workers. The next lot came from Manila and are not in love with horny-handed toil.

On Tuesday of last week all of the Filipino laborers proved the fitness of the Philippines for self-government by going out on a strike. Manager John Hind being away they were asked to go back to work until he returned.

The men from Cebu decided to go to work next morning but were warned by two ring-leaders of the Manila group that if they did so they would suffer; but in the morning they started out to work one by one.

Billy Wilson yard overseer, noticed the Manila men cutting the handles of their hoes in two. When he questioned them, they replied that the handles were too long for convenience. But at 4:30 they sallied out to meet the Cebu gang armed with the shillalahs they had cut off their hoe-handles.

When the Cebu men saw the threatening array, they put for Hawi and appealed for protection. They were housed for the night and the police sent for. After a lapse of six hours the sheriff and his men arrived and two of the ring-leaders were arrested but not without some trepidation on the part of the officers, it is said.

There have been other little flurries with the Filipino laborers, on some of the other plantations of the district but in one instance the men apologized next day for acting hastily. On the whole, the managers say that they make good laborers.

Authorities Ready To Shoot Death Rather Than Lose

Several hundred Russians gathered in the grounds of the capitol this morning.

Several called on the Secretary of the Territory, E. A. Mott-Smith, and pretended to exhibit wounds which they alleged were the result of being lashed last night when they attacked the police station in an abortive attempt to rescue Vasileff, their anarchistic leader.

Mott-Smith fearlessly informed the "scum" that the police were within their rights. The cowards had held their children up for their own protection when the police charged, after playing the hose on them.

Mott-Smith gave them no satisfaction. There is talk of the Russians again trying this evening to rescue from jail their violent leader Vasileff, or "Vasiline," as he is affectionately called by the police.

It is well for the Russians to know that whereas last evening they were met only with whips and water, if they persist THEY WILL BE SHOT DOWN LIKE DOGS, FOR THE POLICE WILL NOT ARGUE WITH THEM. REVOLVERS WILL BE USED IN THE NEXT RIOT.

If they are cunts enough to use their children as shields, their children are likely to be taken from them while they themselves are cast into jail.

The situation is growing serious. There is likely to be a fight between the Russians and the police. The police will win. There will be dead Russians. The problem of how or why they came here will be settled at the morgue.

Jarrett, who has had stirring experience with the Japanese, is wide awake. He will order his men to shoot to kill. The Russians have defied the community. They are worse than vagrants. They are desperadoes. Some are supposed to be preparing bombs for explosion in the police department.

With the exception of a few groups of men talking, with animated gestures, everything is quiet over at the Russian camp in Iwilei. Women, children and their lazy and indolent husbands are smoking and drinking around the filthy camp which they call home, and, judging from words caught here and there, they intend to make some effort tonight to see their deliverer and martyr Vasileff.

Some of the Russians are working along Queen street, digging and clearing off rocks on the property just mauka of the Inter-Island wharves, while a good number of them are working on the Japanese steamer Manshu Maru, which is alongside of the railroad wharf.

The inspectors, under the direction of the city and county, are watching very carefully for any outbreak of trouble, and only diplomacy saved the day this morning when several men, who were walking along near the camp were taken for police officers and several of the hardest looking characters among the Russians made an attempt to corner them, evidently meaning to cause them trouble.

A representative of The Star asked a few questions of those who could speak a little English, and the answer in every case was "Police no good; we fix them! Make trouble last night! Too much sore head!"

The quick and effective work done last night in dispersing the mob does not seem to be appreciated very much by the people who came in contact with the night sticks in the hands of those who did not use them any too gently.

$500 FOR SHOT AT JAPANESE

Hussey the man-of-warman who went to Iwilei one night on an errand not recognized by law was this morning in Judge Cooper's court fined $500 and costs for shooting a Japanese man who stood in the way of his blue-jacket realizing his expectations.

Hussey had every reason in the world to believe that Iwilei was the red light district. He acted accordingly.

There was nothing doing. He saw a Japanese woman and addressed her. She happened to be married. In Iwilei, decent married folks are indiscriminately mixed with indecent folks, females.

When Hussey addressed a female Japanese a male Japanese, her husband, as luck would have it interfered with the result that Hussey, being drunk, shot the Jap and nearly killed him.

The charge of assault with intent to murder was changed to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and Judge Cooper this morning sentenced Hussey to pay a fine of $500, thanks to the representations of Attorney E. A. Douthitt.

Ryan who was with Hussey at the time of the shooting, as previously announced, was discharged.
